

Cadukeya

Artist Information

Cadukeya (real name: Fatima Tajic) is a German solo artist, who is living in Aalborg, Denmark. She is a singer, guitarist, and composer of catchy and soulful Dark Rock songs.

In the early 90ies Fatima started to write her own songs, that were inspired by the music of The Cure, which could reflect her mood perfectly. She found other inspirations in the early albums of Paradise Lost, Obituary, Tiamat, Anathema, The Gathering, Moonspell and Lacuna Coil.

Cadukeya's songs can be described as melancholic, dark and emotional with elements of Heavy Metal and Goth Rock. The expression "Dark Rock" fits her music well, though Fatima is not focused on a certain genre. Her songs have surprising elements and vary from cool metal riffs like "He who felt the moon" or "Distant Run" to acoustic sounds like "Remember" or "For the First and the Last", all steeped in headstrong melodies and a distinctive melancholic setting.

Listening to the music of Cadukeya is like swimming inside her deep waters and get hit by her high waves from time to time. You certainly have to open up for it, as it develops slowly until you will get hooked.

Opinions

Hèctor Prat (Metaladies Webzine)

"Cadukeya born in 2005, developing a gothic ambiented style that mixes melancholy with guitar riffs."

Holger Warschkow (Dark Feather, Underground-Zine)

"Ihre Songs werden getragen von großen Gefühlen, die Melancholie und düsteren Rock verbinden. Aber eigentlich ist diese Beschreibung zu banal, denn auf die Musik von Cadukeya muss man sich ganz einlassen, um ihre volle Grösse zu erfassen." [sic]
English translation: 'Her songs are carried by big emotions, that combine melancholy and obscure rock music. But in effect, this description is too simple, because you have to completely get into the music of Cadukeya, to gather her full dimension.'
